

VACANCIES

Letlaka Media, publisher of the Free State's leading provincial newspaper The Weekly and other titles, is eager to recruit the services of the following key professionals:

INTERN JOURNALISTS

We are looking for passionate, determined and hardworking INTERN JOURNALISTS who can join us, hit the deck running and effortlessly become a valuable asset in our quest to set first-class journalistic standards.

The ideal candidate will be expected to:

- Write eight sport, government and related stories on a weekly basis as discussed with the Deputy Editor.
- Submit quality stories, captions together with quality pictures on a weekly basis.
- Cross checking the facts, spelling grammar and writing style in your stories.
- Meet deadlines and targets of the number of stories required.
- Be always available to travel and attend stories in other towns of the province.
- Be prepared to work overtime.
- Attend conferences, media briefings and any other related story as discussed with the Editors.

Key performance areas:

- You will be expected to submit to the RELEVANT EDITOR stories on a weekly basis.
- Submit and discuss diary of all stories to the Editor on a weekly basis, ideally on Thursday.
- Submit a minimum of eight edited stories for the newspaper, including sports and columns to the Editor.
- Submit all photos with captions to the Editor on time.

Qualification:

- Diploma / Certificate / National Diploma or B.Com in Media Studies or related fields.
- Fluent in English.

Remuneration:

- Competitive remuneration will be paid to the right candidate.

The ideal candidate should have traceable credentials in journalism.

Attractive remuneration packages, including generous benefits, are in place for the successful candidates for the advertised vacancies.

If you fit the bill and want a new exciting career with a growing media company with expanding operations around South Africa and beyond, send your application by e-mail to tumi@letlaka.co.za by February 28, 2017.