

The CUT community wishes to congratulate all graduates on receiving their passports to the future from CUT this week. May this academic achievement set a new course for a soaring life –

Think Beyond!

Graduation 2017

Chancellor's Excellence Award to recognise Free State son, Mr Teboho Loate, for his role in leadership and community involvement

Mr Teboho Loate will receive the inaugural Chancellor's Excellence Award from CUT today. Mr Loate is recognised by the University for his proven capacity to guide and motivate others to excellence, and for his commitment to improving and serving the regional community.

Excellence in research – Five students from the Faculty of Health and Environmental Sciences receive their Master's degrees *cum laude

A team of young, dynamic scientists of the Faculty of Health and Environmental Sciences have completed their Master's degrees in Biomedical Technology with distinction. The students form part of the team who discovered the innovative drug against aquatic infections that wreak havoc in the aqua farming sector.

Pictured: The group of students with their study leaders and fellow team members from the Faculty of Health and Environmental Sciences in 2015, when the drug was discovered..

